

Welcome to Disneyland.

«To all who come to this happy place! Welcome. Disneyland is your land» Walt Disney said these words at the opening ceremony of his park. Disneyland is a place where people find both happiness and knowledge. It is a park for families with children and entertains all ages.

There are five Disneyland parks in the world. I think one of the most famous and interesting of them is Disneyland in Paris. It was open in 1992. Theme Park offers rides, parades and shows. Every day at 3 pm on the Main Street you can see the Grand parade of fairy-tale characters and cartoons: Aladdin, Princesses and other favorites. In the evenings there is the same characters parade in outfits from light bulbs. The day ends with musical fireworks. Disneyland is traditionally divided into five main zones — countries.

I'd like to visit Disneyland. I think it's unforgettable to walk among your favorite cartoon characters and to take pictures with them. Moreover I like attractions very much. If I were in Disneyland I would ride on everything! I hope I will visit it one day even if I am already a grown-up. I am sure that Disneyland will always be interesting for people of all ages!
